WE NOMINATE

Saxe Commins, one of this country's remarkable men of letters and a devoted Princetonian for the past two decades, who is primarily responsible for Princeton's "literary event of the year"—this week's opening of the William Faulkner Exhibition which will remain on public display in the University Library for the next four months. With the University's tub-thumping department owlishly proclaiming "the first comprehensive collection of manuscripts by the man generally described as America's greatest living author," the 60-year old Commins, self-effacing editor for three of the United States' four Nobel Prize-Winners (Faulkner plus Sinclair Lewis and Eugene O'Neill) remains in the background, quietly content with the notices Faulkner's new novel, The Town, is attracting.

Described several years ago in the Saturday Review of Literature as an editor capable of "striking barren rock with his blue pencil and making champagne gush forth," Commins, a native of Rochester, N. Y., and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, belongs to a group which seldom, if ever, catches the eye of the reading-public. While deserving recognition for his direction of the Modern Library, a pioneering effort in the field of general education and a venture antedating the Depression of the 1930's, he belittles all he has done in working with the "stable of writers" that includes, in addition to the Nobel Triumvirate, such diverse personalities as Sherwood Anderson, James Michener, Theodore Dreiser, Budd Schulberg, Robinson Jeffers and Walter Van Tilburg Clark.

An editor, even if senior editor with the firm of Random House, is all things to those who write. Over a normal week, he will debate the promise of a manuscript submitted by a "coming" novelist, will write copy for dust-jackets, will supply reviewers with anecdotes about "men of letters," will check the proofs of a volume by a presidential candidate, will convince (and tactfully) a woman novelist that her first two chapters stand in need of revision, will re-write the introduction to a popular volume of psychiatry and will select the author of a preface to medical treatise. At week's end, he may possibly receive credit for a small part of his job; a credit-line for an anecdote supplied to a columnist.

The husband of a well-known concert pianist, among whose accomplishments are listed the publication of works documenting children's songs, Commins' affiliations with Princeton date back to the summer of 1938 and the June "book-warming" that marked the appearance of the Oates-O'Neill Complete Greek Drama, his first "Princeton book." For a period of years, prior to building his Armour Road home, he commuted between Princeton and New York during the summer and laid the foundation for the relationships which have subsequently made it possible for Faulkner to complete a large portion of one of his works here and to deposit in the University Library a collection of manuscripts valued at $500,000.

For meriting the tributes that come to him from the "always lonely and often difficult men" who create this country's most distinguished works of literature; for giving Princeton new insight into what makes reading literature; for bolstering this community's at-times sagging literary traditions; he is our nominee for

MORE, BETTER PARKING

Also Higher Rates. The plight of the Princeton parker, all-day as well as short-term variety, is destined for improvement in very short order, Mayor P. Mackay Sturges informed the press and representatives of the vitally-concerned Princeton Business Association this week. Long-delayed, yet justified, rate increases for some Borough meters will accompany the improvement, he cautioned, but public opinion ought to welcome the benefits to be derived from these hikes.

As promised 10 days or so ago, Mayor Sturges called the press session in order to release the first report of his nine-man Advisory Committee on Parking and Traffic Control—an eight-page document aimed at diminishing the woes of parking in downtown Princeton. He opened the meeting by praising the committee for its time and effort, calling the group "a hard-working, fair and successful" one, and by telling those present that Council plans to adopt the committee's suggestions with only two changes.

After considering the report at great length in several "closed door" sessions, the mayor observed, members of Council decided to maintain enforcement of all Borough-controlled meters from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., as presently exists, rather than changing some to an 8 to 4 operation, as proposed by the committee. "Uniformity of time is essential to avoid confusion," the mayor asserted. Also, Council decided to place a 40-cent maximum on all-day parking, rather than a 50-cent limit considered by the volunteer group.

Mr. Sturges endorsed the general rate increases by explaining that purchase of additional off-street parking space is an expensive proposition and that, in view of the Borough's limited "borrowing power" at this time, more meter money must be realized. "Meters have affected the tax rate favorably by only a few points," he stressed. "They are certainly no bonanza, as many people think."

"Turnover," Not Tickets. Elaborating on the financial situation, Mayor Sturges pointed out that the recent high school expansion and sewer improvement left the Borough with only $210,800 in bonds it can legally sell. Cost of the all-important Public Service lot at Witherspoon and Wiggins Street will come to $190,000 (with meters), so the balance—until next March 1, at least—will be small.

Each car space in a parking lot must be bought for less than $1,000 in order for it to pay, but spaces in the Chambers Street lot cost $1,300 per and undeveloped spaces may cost just as much, the mayor cautioned. Net revenues from meters in 1956 came to $21,640; if the committee's plans are followed through, the net by 1958 may well reach $74,000, or much closer to a break-even figure for the Borough.

"We're not interested in giving tickets," the mayor commented, "we're only interested in turnover." The committee's report will result in this increased turnover—as well as increased revenue—and, coupled with the municipality's plans for more parking areas, will result in a "better parking situation" for all motorists.

On the oft-discussed parking situation, Mayor Sturges said he felt "motorists should pay the freight (for parking lots) not the Borough taxpayers." He asked: "Why should the Borough taxpayers pay for out-of-town employees?" He reiterated that negotiations for the Public Service property are progressing "very well," noted that the Trinity Church lot (51 spaces) will be ready with new meters that take nickels, dimes or quarters by June 1, (other lots will get the same type of meters in July), said Princeton is too small a town for a multi-story parking garage, and lamented the fact that proposed Tulane and Park lots were not purchased three years ago, when available.

A 1200% Increase. Briefing newspapermen on the impact of the Advisory Committee's program for 1957, Richard W. Colman, chairman, explained that the Borough now controls 204 off-street spaces, of which only 11 are reserved for short-term, or "shopper," parkers. With acquisition of the Trinity and Public Service lots, plus other anticipated developments, the total by year's end will be 436.

Mr. Colman said 136 of the 436 spaces, or 31.2% of the total, will be opened for the short-term parker (limited to two-hour parking) if the committee's suggestions are followed. Since only 5.4% of available off-street spaces are now occupied by the "shoppers," the increase will come to 1200%. At the same time, 300 of the 436 spaces will be saved for all-day parkers, or a 55% hike over the number (193) currently in use on a long-term basis.

The committee chairman underscored the fact that his group is asking for spaces nearest streets for the short-term parker, so that vacancies will be readily visible to passing drivers. He—Continued on Page 2 also multiplied the number of proposed short-term spaces by their turnover periods, coming up with a total of 680 yard spaces per day for "shoppers" (plus 70 newly-created short-term spaces on the west curb of Chambers Street).

Another committee recommendation, devoutly subscribed to by Council, is a three-hour parking limit on residential streets adjacent in the business district—a recommendation aimed at discouraging all-day parking on these streets, while not interfering with legitimate residential parking purposes. Notably missing from the report was any mention of metered parking on Friday nights, which cannot be handled in a "fair or feasible way" (according to Mayor Stuppa), though, despite this omission, the business association's leaders lauded the overall document, describing it as "a wonderful beginning."

At its membership meeting Monday evening (see story, page 10), the Princeton Business Association heard details of the committee's downtown parking suggestions. An official PBA vote of confidence was given in support of the proposals, a definite shift in position, since a spokesman for the association said last week he was disappointed in the PBA's limited representation on the committee. (For a glimpse of public opinion on the matter of metered Friday nights, see Question of the Week, page 13).

ROUND-UP

That year-old legal hassle over "bridle paths" between the Princeton Riding Club on one side and two groups of landowners on the other resumed the trial stage last Monday in Trenton, with Superior Court Judge C. Thomas Schetino supervising the proceedings.

... the riding institution has brought suit against Mrs. Sarah Greenberg and Lawrence Greenberg, developers of Brookstone, and the Westley Corporation, representing Wilson Road residents, charging that "continued use" of horse trails along the old trolley line (which crosses some Brookstone property and runs adjacent to some Wilson Road homes) constitutes ownership of the paths. ... the club claims 20-25 acre usage ... the trial is expected to go on well over a week.

Also on the legal scene, Mrs. Robert R. Burrell, 201 Birch Avenue, has filed a damage suit for $30,000 against the Pennsylvania Railroad in Federal Court, charging that the PRR was "negligent" in the 1956 death of her husband, a railroad haggagamen who fell down an elevator shaft in the New York station. ... and the Alcoholic Beverage Commission reportedly has "uncovered" violations of the New Jersey statutes by three Borough liquor stores ... commission agents allegedly caught Charles Saliez, Yeoman's and Wine and Game Shop selling alcoholic beverages to minors during the course of Princeton University's Houseparties weekend.

Though the YMCA-YWCA held an impressive annual banquet 10 days ago, the organizations' postponed new building received only passing mention, and then ground-breaking was given merely a "come time this summer" dedication ... the subject pops back into the news this week by way of a probing letter to Mailbox on page 16 ... by the same token, Postmaster Charles F. Murray announced this week that the lobby of the Post Office will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. each Sunday, starting May 12 ... but, regrettably, the postmaster was unable to reveal (does anyone know?) when the Post Office doors will swing again.

Joseph W. Caplan, proprietor of the Army-Navy Store, last week bid successfully for neighboring property on Witherspoon Street, the old firehouse of Hook & Ladder Chemical Company No. 1. ... the lone bidder, Mr. Caplan offered $40,500 for the narrow, three-story building ... Mrs. Robert Serrell, chairman of the Hospital Aid Committee's spring rummage sale, this week thanked the community for providing a gross of $2,640 (all earmarked for Princeton Hospital) ... speaking of spring, it's really in the air, as evidenced by the two well-known Princeton cabbies playing WHAM-O with plastic flying saucers at the Nassau-Witherspoon intersection and by the clarinet warming up for last Saturday's Gilbert & Sullivan production at McCarter by rendering a solo from "Rhapsody in Blue" ... and this is the first birthday issue for "This Is Princeton." ### RESERVOIR PROPOSED

Just west of Princeton, a 1,530-acre Stony Brook reservoir, roughly five times the size of Lake Carnegie, was proposed this week for the Princeton area. Just two miles west of town, to be exact—by the New Jersey Water Resources Advisory Committee. Needless to note, the committee's proposal, contained in a comprehensive 31-page report to Governor Meyner, left many Princetonians gasping for air—an appropriate expression in view of the proposal's long-range stipulations.

In essence, these are the salient points outlined in detail in the report.

● Two reservoirs, one near Princeton and the other near Clinton, are recommended for development of the Raritan River basin. Purpose: to ease the acute water shortage in northern New Jersey. Anticipated production: 80 million gallons of water each day. Construction cost: $14,000,000 (including condemnation of land involved).

● The committee's timetable calls for construction of the Clinton reservoir in 1960, the Princeton reservoir two to five years after completion of the first project.

● Though most of the proposed Stony Brook reservoir lies in Hopewell Township, where it will provide for two to five years after completion of the first project.

Various Reactions Anticipated. Princeton, curiously, is well-represented on the lay committee, named only last September by State Conservation Commissioner Joseph McLean, Lawrenceville-Princeton Road, James Kerney Jr., 33 Cleveland Lane, is the group's vice-chairman, while John C. Williams, 87 Library Place, is an active member. They have given the study much time and have reason to expect considerable support here and elsewhere, if the governor and legislature endorse the report and it goes to public vote.

Yet, other Princetonians understandably have already lined up against the proposal, and no doubt many more remain to be heard from — after the initial impact has been absorbed. Township Mayor Ralph S. Mason, dubious about a committee suggestion that the value of land around the reservoir would be enhanced, asked, "Have you ever seen the reservoirs in New York during a drought? All you have is an unsightly mud flat ringing the water." He urged representation by the communities involved — for protection of their rights—at any future conferences connected with the Stony Brook project.

Caught off-guard by the committee's report, the trustees of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association met in special session and announced they "have been placed in an embarrassing situation" because they were not consulted regarding the reservoir. David McAlpin of Princeton, vice-president of the group, commented that "our three-year study under the Small Watersheds Act (566), plus the constructive work in conserving resources accomplished by our association over the past eight years has produced data which might well have strengthened or even altered the committee's report."

E. Russell Riker, Princeton Borough Engineer and an association trustee, said, "Until we have more factual data, we cannot take any stand at all on the proposal. It appears that the study was made from other reports, very little field work having been done . . . we feel quite strongly that neither the advisory committee nor its engineers have made a sufficiently detailed study to ask the people of New Jersey to vote on a 14-million-dollar bond issue next November. Such a costly project, affecting the lives of so many people, should not be steamrollered through without a proper and adequate survey, including field work."

TOWNSHIP "RHUBARB"

Too Hot to Cool Down? Belabored members of the Princeton Township Planning Board, still reeling as a result of the charges and counter-charges tossed their way during a heated four-hour public meeting Monday evening, will hold an "executive session" this Thursday to reach several key decisions. Normally, the closed-door proceedings follow the board's regular monthly gathering, but Monday's turnout of some 100 quizzical residents kept the planners on their toes much longer than usual and finally caused postponement of the decision-making session.

The May meeting was a real "rhubarb" in every sense of that oft-used baseball expression. Citizens from opposite ends of the Township challenged the board, debated issues with their neighbors, questioned the interference of "outside influences" and, in general, cleared a good deal of air that has been clouded for some time. Of note, they raised so many ideas and proclaimed so many divergent views that the board's action on two of the matters before it will come as no simple move—and, quite unavoidably, will displace a number of persons.

A majority of residents attending the planners' convale to take advantage of its public hearing on "Taffaire Edgerstone." Before the board were joint requests asking that it endorse vacation of the "paper road" extending from the Edgerstone section to Rosedale Road, recommend acceptance of 10-plus acres of Stony Brook property as gifts from the Edgerstone Coporation and Gen. Robert W. Johnson, and approve a revised plan for subdividing Edgerstone's remaining land to make the bulk of the gifts possible.

Most of the season's attendees admittedly were on hand because of the "package deal" aspects of the joint requests. They came to question why the donors had stipulated that the gift-land could be used for street purposes as well as a public park, why the recommendations should be lumped together and why they—as Edgerstoune residents—had been placed in such an untenable position. Many of them stated, even after the "rhubarb," that they anticipated board endorsement of the requests, and thus another hassle when the matter goes back to the Township Committee next Monday night.

"Part of the Underground." After Jean Labatut, chairman of the Planning Board, had assured one questioner that "the gifts are not inconsistent with the Township's future 'master plan,'" another member of the audience asked him why the Edgerstoune tract was turned down by the board four years ago, but now is being considered. Mr. Labatut, stressing the inclusion of Gen. Johnson's parcel as part of the current proposals, said: "The Edgerstoune property was landlocked in '53. Now that it is not isolated, it seems reasonable for the board to change its view. Now a unified park area is possible."

The name of architect Charles K. Agle, a private city planner who has done work in the past for the Township and who outlined the Edgerstoune-Johnson proposition to Edgerstoune and Rosedale residents a month ago, was mentioned often during Monday's stormy session. Queried about Mr. Agle's appearance before these groups, the board chairman laughed and said, "He's part of the underground." "They weren't underground that afternoon," his questioner replied.

Along the same line, Mr. Labatut was asked if Mr. Agle isn't going to serve as a paid consultant on the Township's recently adopted "master plan." The chairman concurred, adding quickly that "being an adviser doesn't mean we will follow what he says 100%." Mr. Labatut also was questioned about the "green belt" referred to by Mr. Agle and in the Edgerstoune-Johnson requests, but he avoided a detailed discussion of this concept by asserting that "the 'green belt' makes me laugh because Princeton is a green city already."
The Planning Board chairman indicated his approval of the re-

Dedicated to Dodds

As a timely "parting salute" to Princeton University's retiring president, Harold W. Dodds, who will conclude a distinguished quarter-century term next month, the PRINCETON ALUMNI WEEKLY has dedicated this week's issue and devoted much of its space to an outgoing leader. Included in the issue are six articles about Dr. Dodds, a response written by him and 24 special Dodds-associated photos, plus a cover shot by LIFE magazine's Margaret Bourke-White.

Leading off with tributes by Nathan M. Pusey of Harvard and A. Whitney Griswold of Yale, the WEEKLY has completed its record with laudatory words from Harold L. Heim, chairman of the executive committee of the University's board of trustees; J. Douglas Brown, dean of the faculty; Dr. Ferdye B. St. John, former chairman of the board; and Professor "Archie Blair," an anonymous analyst. Dr. Dodds has paid his respects to the trustees, faculty, administration, undergraduates and alumni.

quests by explaining that the gifts will eliminate condemnation efforts in the future, if a Rosedale-Stockton artery becomes necessary, and by pointing out that a Rosedale-Stockton link via Edgerstoune Road, a possibility if the "package deal" is defeated, would be "a catastrophe." By way of pooh-poohing the likelihood of a major road on the gift-land, he said, "It would be foolishness for the State Highway Department to approve a Rosedale-Stockton link over the brook—but then, you never know."

A Cause of Fear. Speaking eloquently in behalf of some of his neighbors, L. E. Purvis, 207 Russell Road, told the board that the Edgerstoune residents feel they "are dealing with uncertainty—and the unknown causes fear." Later, he commented, "Nobody's against a park, but we're against a park with the possibility of a road." In the same connection, he emphasized, "We want the right to oppose both links (along Stany Brook and via Edgerstoune)—we don't just want to sit back and accept the lesser of two evils."

Stanley C. Smoyer, 86 Olden Lane, offering the viewpoint of a non-Edgerstoune resident, maintained it is "in the interest of the public to get a broad gift rather than a limited one." Looking ahead to the approval or disapproval of a Stany Brook artery some years hence, he urged the board's endorsement of the gifts by claiming such future action involves "no more uncertainty than any other action a governing body might take."

Attorney Glen B. Miller Jr., 243 Russell Road, drew the evening's first and loudest audience ovation after his initial remarks.

News Of The THEATRES

BALLET READY

"Sleeping Beauty" at McCarter. More than 150 young Princetonians, ably abetted by a number from the older generation, will transform McCarter Theatre into a fairyland setting Thursday afternoon. The curtain is set for 8:30, and the achievement will be repeated Friday night at 8:15. The occasion is the annual performance of the Princeton Ballet Society, which has been in rehearsal for several weeks with its production of "The Sleeping Beauty." The Society's presentation climaxes the annual Children's Entertainment Series.

Two prologues and three acts will be presented to the accompaniment of Tchaikovsky's music. Audree Estey, director of the Ballet Society, is responsible for the choreography, with L. Wendell Estey as production manager and set designer.

Mrs. M. H. Greenblatt will be at the piano, as she has been during the rehearsals, and will be accompanied at the two performances by Miss Martha Braden of Westminster Choir College. Tickets are available at the box office.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. John Meyer, patrons; Mrs. Arthur Colley, program; Mrs. Taylor Woodward and Mrs. William Bonthron, tickets; Mrs. Gardner Patterson, publicity; Mrs. Charles Halcomb, treasurer; Mrs. Corson Cunningham and Mrs. Lawrence Thompson, costumes; Mrs. Walker Stevenson, designing; Mrs. Richard Woodbridge and Mrs.

Peter Cook, make-up; Mrs. M. H. Mesner, ushers.

Also, Mrs. Joseph R. Wood, Mrs. James Reed and Mrs. John Shear, dressing rooms; Mrs. John Meyer, Mrs. John Lees and Mrs. M. S. Readinger, backstage; Mrs. Francis Pace and James Briner, door; Mrs. George Bush and Mrs. John Nelson, properties.

BALLET BY APPARI

Dance Exhibition Planned, Miss Milla Gibbons, director of the Appari School of Dance, will give a demonstration of ballet technique as part of the Appari show to be presented at the Princeton High School auditorium Saturday at 8 p.m. The program will also feature members of the school from grades one through intermediate.

Born and trained in Paris, Miss Gibbons has danced in most of the countries of Europe and in North Africa and the Orient. Her repertoire includes styles ranging from ancient court dances to the modern.

The Appari Dancers, under the direction of Miss Gibbons, will present one ballet and two long dance compositions during the program. Among these are the dances from "As You Like It," with music by Frank Lewin of Princeton and Choreography by Miss Gibbons.

The Appari production is a benefit performance for talented students applying for scholarships in the school. Mrs. C. D. Perkins and Mrs. Seymour Goodheart are directors of the scholarship fund.

News Of The Theatres

The play, scheduled to continue through Saturday at Murray Theatre, drew considerable audience praise.

James Harders performance as Captain Queeg and Greg Ferrell's portrayal of Lt. Barney Greenwald headed the list of credits for the production. James Kraft is the play's director. Tickets are available at the University Store, and at the Murray box office before each 8:30 performance.

FOREIGN FLAVOR

Drama Group Formed "Le Cercle Français," a private play-reading group long devoted to the study of French drama, has been converted by Princeton Department of Romance Languages into a performing theatrical group. Under the direction of Louba Radnyce of the department, the group is planning a production of Jean Anouilh's "Le Voyageur sans Bagages."

This will be the second production this year by the newly-formed group. The original play, Marcel Aymé's "Les Oiseaux de Lune," drew a capacity audience without being publicized beforehand.

The current production is scheduled for Murray Theatre at 8:30 on the evenings of May 17 and 18. A third performance is tentatively set to be presented in Bryn Mawr, Penn., on May 19. (Admission charge: a normal 75 cents.)

Jean Glouchevitch of the Modern Languages Department will have the leading role in "Le Voyageur sans Bagages." In supporting roles will be Carmen Freixas, J. P. Couvin, Pierre Frouet, Mrs. M. J. Hoeg, Mrs. Marina Buodert, Mrs. Michele Trudel and Mrs. Nicole Coone.

THE PLAYHOUSE

12 Angry Men (May 9-11) are jurors charged with the task of determining the fate of an 18-year-old boy on trial for allegedly murdering his father. Eleven of them are convinced of his guilt for a variety of illogical reasons, while the lone dissenter, played superbly by Henry Fonda, is a strong thinker with enough fortitude to fight each argument and finally win a unanimous "not guilty" verdict. Needless to say, Fonda's assignment is a difficult one, and only excellent acting by him and his different opponents can—and does—make this closely knit story an extremely effective motion picture.

Screenplaywright Reginald Rose and Fonda, the co-producers of "12 Angry Men," are to be congratulated for achieving success by violating several of Hollywood's oldest rules. Their production includes nary a female face and, what's more, most of it takes place in the confines of the jury's room, wherein the camera studies intently human nature through a series of vivid closeups and well-calculated face-to-face shifts. Director Sidney Lumet is responsible for much of the success of this film, as are such brilliant character actors as Lee J. Cobb, Ed Begley and Jack Warden.

Boy on a Dolphin (May 12-18), rather curiously, is the title of a motion picture about a modern treasure hunt in Greece that is being enticingly publicized by means of a large, wringing-wet photo of Sophia Loren, an unmistakable girl who certainly must be regarded as one of the modern treasures of Italy. Be this as it may, the title actually refers to a 2,000-year-old bronze and gold statue, sighted on the floor of the Aegean Sea by Miss Loren. Europe's answer to Esther Williams, and given background song recognition by Julie London, whose voice is almost as suggestive as Sophia's anatomy. The statue is the object of a beautifully filmed (CinemaScope-Deluxe Color) search which draws the usual representatives of Good and Evil into conflict.

As a travelogue, "Dolphin" gives Greece the same grandiose treatment already bestowed on such romantic spots as Hong Kong, Tokyo and Rome. And Miss Loren adds a glory that never was Greece's. Yet, the movie falls far short of its intended mark for lack of a substantial story. Alan Ladd (Good) spends his time trying to look as handsome as the scenery (the fails), while Clifton

IT'S NEW
 To Us

Draw a Curtain, Ruffles and flourishes, tiers and tie-backs. To say nothing of pillows, throws, and shower curtains. There is a new store in the Shopping Center called "Home Decor" that will carry all these things and many more, even down to a mite-sized curtain hook.

The specialty of the house is curtains, drapes and bedspreads, but this covers a lot of yardage.
 You'll also find ready-made slipcovers (very useful for that studio couch in the guest-room that doesn't really need a custom job), throw pillows for guests to sit on if you haven't enough chairs, bath towels by such aristocrats as Martex, Fieldcrest, and so on.

The owners of "Home Decor" have stocked their 3100 square feet of floor space with goods that begin at popular prices and go on up. Buy a gingham kitchen curtain, maybe one by Shir-back.
 Or place a special order for a Ken-Mil creation for your picture window.

Bedspreads follow along. There are good sturdy Bates and Cabin-craft spreads, excellent for rough-and-tumble rooms or general use. Then there are formal spreads in taffeta or chintz, with a monogram if you wish. "Home Decor" plans to have 10 made-up beds in a dormitory row to exhibit spreads to their best advantage.

Blankets to keep everything cozy are by St. Mary's Fieldcrest and Chatham. There are blanket-covers, too.

"Home Decor" is an independent specialty shop without chain connections. Its two owners—one of whom served as a buyer in this field—for Abraham & Strauss—hope that you will give them suggestions about the kind of merchandise you'd like to see there carry.

Meantime, if you need a couple of brass curtain rings, you know where to find them.

Paddle and Saddle. Sounds like a canny cover boys. It's really the brand name of some inexpensive ($2.98 or so) sportswear at Landau's, 25 Witherspoon Street, and we see no reason at all why you shouldn't buy a piece or two for Mother's Day.
 A sleeveless midgy (red, white or navy) is cuffed at the bottom and designed to be worn outside.
 "Condolier" is a white drill shirt with sailor collar and navy-white striped fill-in vest.

Less vigorous mothers might respond to something in the way of lingerie. Seampruf has a new slip with "Proportioned Boon" which means it's cut to cup size just like a bra. Comes in white nylon for $5.95.
 Elise and seersucker make airy gowns for summer, with bare arms and lace-edged cap sleeves.
 One full-length model has lace edging on red or blue polka-dotted fabric.

Cotton dresses don't look quite so much like "Mother" as they used to. Landau's has a very pleasing Dan River cotton dress with bateau neck and soft front
 bow. It's sleeveless, in pale blue and white with white carved buttons and it costs $5.98.

Other dresses in the shop are even less expensive: cool seersuckers, print housedresses, and

Bul Not "Grey Mouse"

The boys who make up the names of cosmetics have been sitting under their "Think" signs again and they have presented Du Barry with the results of their cerebration—some painting jungle stuff to go on the label of the new Color Glo hair coloring.

You may think brown hair is pretty drab, but when you call it "Brown Jaguar"—well! Or how about "Midnight Panther" for a brunette? Blondes can be "Golden Leopard" and even grandmas has glamour with "Silver Mink." (Du Barry does not say how that mink ever got into the jungle.)

The one we like best is for ladies with an Auburn light or "Gill and Cheletch"—guaranteed to make the nines restless.

Color Glo is neither rinse, dye nor color shampoo. Just what it is, Du Barry coyly does not say. It's in cream form, foams like soap and stays where you put it. Won't brush or rub out, but will come out with shampoo. Said to be an improvement over liquid hair colorings. Thorne's Drug Store carries it—"in all five vibrant jungle colors."

housedresses with narrow stripes.
 You might like a golfer in plain or striped fabric—lots of these.
 Sizes in Landau's cotton dresses go from 12-20 and from 1½ to 2½.

At the back of the shop, you'll find enough Bermuda shorts to stock the whole island. Paddle and Saddle has some blue denims for only $1.98 (charcoal, too), and we also find plaids, polished cotton and drill. Bermuda shorts are available in the large sizes that are a Landau specialty—up to 44.

Illusion Versus Reality. Helena Rubinstein has a kit you can buy at Thorne's Drug Store, 168 Nassau, that will keep you from looking like an un-retouched photograph.

"Magic Illusion" consists of Silk Tone foundation and a "shadow-lighting" stick called "Conceal"—both for $3. Use the Silk Tone first and then get to work with the "Conceal" to cover up what Helena delicately calls "imperfections"—frown lines, blemishes, freckles, crow's feet, shadows under the eyes.
 You won't know the old girl.

Next—but these don't come

News Of The Theatres

Webb (Evil) spends his time trying to extract wit from an unwitting script (he fails, too). What's worse, there isn't even much action to atone for these failures and lend some body (besides Sophia's) to the search. (P.S.—Good wins again, though Ladd doesn't deserve the victory—and Miss Loren deserves a younger leading man).

THE GARDEN

Nana (May 9-11), in French with English titles, is a spicy two-hour pterization of Emile Zola's novel of social and moral corruption, sin and retribution in France of the Second Empire (1860's), though, of course, it is unable to get by the censors—even those naughty French censors—what Mr. Zola gets to his readers. Despite this defect, if it be a defect, "Nana" is an elaborate, magnificently set and costumed drama, which tells the "Sinderella" tale of an aristocrat who sacrifices family, honor, wealth and position for the love of a music hall courtesan. Charles Boyer and Marlene Carol head a fine cast, and the color adds handsomely to all the unhandsome doings.

The Lost Continent and The Red Balloon (May 13-18), both foreign prize winners, are presented as a single package because "Continent," an Italian endeavor with English commentary, runs 64 minutes and "Balloon," a French-made film without any dialogue whatsoever, runs only 34 minutes. The contrast is most appealing, and the two productions do quite well on the same bill. "Continent," the first Italian CinemaScope movie, is an interesting travesty that catches the sights and sounds of Indonesia, surveying the streets, customs and people of Berneo (including the head-hunting Dyaks), Java and Bali. Some of the scenery is gorgeous and the color effects are often excellent. "Balloon," awarded an Oscar for its highly original screenplay, is the charming little story of a small boy in Paris, and the wonderful balloon which follows him around all day like a pet. It is beautifully photographed and played, and its boasts a fine musical score.

MUSIC NOTES

High School Concert Thursday. The annual band and orchestra concert will be held by the Princeton High School instrumental department Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at the school. A young harpist, Suzanne Rowles, will be the soloist. Miss Rowles, a student of the harp for four years, will play Handel's "Passacaglia."

A selected group from the Concert Band, the Symphonette F, will play "Second Suite in F" by Gustav Holst and a number of songs from "My Fair Lady." The Concert Band, composed of 75 members, will play an overture by Skornicka; a tone painting, "Squirrels," by H. C. LaGrassy; and Elms' procession from "Lohengrin." Walter Horn will conduct both the Symphonette and the Concert Band. The Orchestra will have 65 members and will be led by Louis Richards. It will play an excerpt from "Tannhauser"; "Keltic Lament" by Foulds; Tchaikovsky's "Marche Slave"; and the coronation march from "Le Prophete" by Meyerbeer.

MISLEADING TITLE: Sophia Loren, Italy's eye-catching contribution to the American screen, is an excellent reason why "Boy on a Dolphin" is a misleading title for her film debut in this country. However, she fills the CinemaScope canvas beautifully—in the picture that will run at the Playhouse all next week.

Concert Saturday. The Princeton University Orchestra will give its third and final concert of the season Saturday at 8:30 in Alexander Hall. Members of the Westminster Choir College orchestra will participate, and Nicholas Harsanyi will conduct. The concert is sponsored by the Friends of Music and is open to the public free of charge.

The soloists will be Allen Balsbaugh, '56, and Edward Said '57 in Bach's concerto in C major for two pianos and orchestra. Schubert's "Unfinished" symphony (No. 8 in B minor) and the "Academic Festival Overture," opus 80, by Brahms make up the rest of the program.

Mr. Said is majoring in the special program in the humanities at the University. Mr. Balsbaugh, a graduate student at Princeton, was a soloist with the University Orchestra last season.

Student Recital Sunday. Student pianist of John Ellis will be heard in a recital Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Spandel of Stockton Street.

Princeton pupils to be heard are Mary Hobler, Molly Deef, Debbie Hobler, William Kehoe, Michael Madeira, Dalby Bishop, Susan Pollard, James Scarff, Nancy Smoyer and Ann Spandel. Jane Arely of Trenton, Peter Lief of Jamesburg and Joseph Weiner of Roosevelt will also play.

Chinese antique junks, large and small. Shadow boxes and mail boxes. Gauze lanterns, 12" to 24" diameter. Kimonos. Miniature animals from China. German Hummel figurines.

"For the Township as a whole," he said, "it is best to get land with the least restrictions possible." He charged that "Mr. Agle is planning a road from the police station (on State Road) all the way to Stockton Street" along the "green belt," and he urged the Township planners to take a look at Mr. Agle's plans, if they haven't seen them already.

"Give us a fair hearing — we haven't had it yet," Mr. Miller declared, stating that he resented the fact that the Township keeps its decisions "in the dark" while making plans and the fact that the municipality still isn't revealing all its plans for his end of town. If the requests are approved without this "fair hearing," he observed, "you will lose something a lot more precious than a road."

"King of the Mountain." Less publicized but no less controversial than "Affaire Edgerstone" was the submission of a preliminary plan for a new, 16-home Princeton University subdivision, the second item of business brought to the board's attention on Monday. The University has laid out its latest housing project for the acreage east of Harrison Street between the old GI housing development and Lake Carnegie.

In presenting the plan for public discussion, the board outlined its "circulation" thoughts in connection with the proposed project, namely, to close Leveux and Butler Avenues at Harrison Street, to open Hartley Avenue at Harrison between the old and new University projects, to open the "dead end" of Cedar Lane for funneling of traffic from the two University projects, and to look ahead to the opening of Sycamore Road, which, in effect, would link Harrison with the Riverside section of the northern end of the GI project.

Residents of Cedar Lane objected to the proposed opening of the street and the simultaneous closing of two nearby streets on Harrison, insisting that they would assume an unfair traffic burden. Residents of Sycamore Circle said they didn't mind the opening of their street too much, but urged the extension of Lake Drive to Harrison as a parallel artery to the south (a physical possibility, since the board has insisted on an easement between properties in the University's plans). Residents of the Riverside section submitted a letter indicating their desire for the continuation of Sycamore and Prospect Avenue, but not Lake Drive.

People living in each of the sections around the proposed University development complained about some phase of the "circulation" thoughts, all of them naturally concerned with the future of individual sections. By debate's end, the board was left with another tough problem — and many members of the audience were left with the impression that the University is "still king of the mountain" since its plan requests that no streets empty into Harrison from the new project.

Following a brief discussion and no contradiction—a sudden change after earlier conversations—the board okayed a preliminary plan for the whole of Princeton Research Park, just north of the Shopping Center, and a final plan for the southwest corner of the organization's overall layout. In that corner, Opinion Research Corporation will build its new home, with a parking lot for 115 cars. The entire project will be cut by a single street, running from Terhune Road on the south and winding through the campus-like area to Harrison Street, just north of its fork with Ewing Street.

Also before the board on Monday was a preliminary plan for the Institute for Advanced Study's proposed 40-home subdivision on Mercer Street, and Western Inc.'s final plan corrections. The Institute project will involve acreage only and will be sold only to permanent members of the Institute faculty. Mr. Labatut, tongue in cheek, urged that the Institute retain the pillared front section of the old Maxwell home, part of the subdivision terrain, as "an Arch of Triumph" over the area's planned traffic circle.

ACCIDENT TOLL MOUNTS

Death Strikes Twice. The Township of Princeton added its third traffic fatality of the year this week, bringing the area total to four. Killed was Mrs. Alice Scott, 30, of Trenton, on her way to work at the State Neuro-Psychiatric Institute in Skillman.

Mrs. Scott died in Princeton Hospital at 9:05 Monday morning after a car containing six Trenton women went out of control on the Princeton-Lawrenceville Road near Bruce's Hill. The accident occurred shortly before 7 a. m.

According to Township Patrolman John Petrone, the mishap was probably caused by a blow-out. Just as the car started down the long grade it veered across the highway and cracked into a telephone pole. The impact completely demolished the car.

The five other women in the car were treated immediately after the accident in Princeton Hospital. Mrs. Thelma Anderson, 36, is still on the hospital's critical list.

man Servis was the first at the scene of the fatality. The injured were taken to the hospital in two ambulances from the Princeton First Aid Unit and one from Lawrenceville.

William J. McHugh of 3 Chambers Street was killed last week when the car he was driving failed to negotiate a curve on a country road near Mount Holly. He died at Burlington County Hospital shortly after the accident.

An employee of F. A. Bamman, Inc. for 13 years, Mr. McHugh was the son of Mrs. Annie McHugh of Princeton. A passenger in the car was thrown from the vehicle on impact and released following hospital treatment.

Business Association Meets. The number of members present at the Princeton Business Association's meeting Monday night at the Nassau Tavern was disappointing to the board of directors but the enthusiasm of those who did come made up for it. About 25 members of the recently-revived organization who attended the meeting were unanimous in their approval of the board's plans.

These include an advertising campaign to be held during the last four months of 1957, starting on September 9. A $13,000-$14,000 budget is planned to advertise the Princeton downtown shopping area in a number of full-page ads in newspapers and over a Trenton radio station. The cost of this campaign is estimated at $175 for the four months for the highest-assessed member of the association.

Words of disapproval were spoken at the meeting concerning the 75% of the members who did not attend. A new meeting was set for May 20 to take definite action on the advertising campaign. Each of the members in attendance this week pledged to bring in three others at the next meeting, "even if we have to do it with a ring through their noses," as one member said.

week to a charge of careless driving. The case highlighted a two and one-half hour Borough court session.

Mr. Wert was cited to court in connection with the fatal traffic accident to Mrs. Isabelle Kopp. Mrs. Kopp died ten days after being hit during a rain storm near her home on Higgins Street.

Two Princeton residents, Mrs. Cynthia B. Lund of the Great Road and Floyd J. Campbell of 103 Leigh Avenue, paid substantial fines for parking violations. Mrs. Lund was charged $31 by Magistrate Cheebro for tickets dating back to September, 1956, while Mr. Campbell paid $26 for violations back to July of last year.

In Criminal Court, Magistrate Cheebro fined David E. Barton of 205 Nassau Street $15 for disorderly conduct. In another case before the Criminal Court session, Charles Gillette of 68 Quarry Street was charged with assault by his wife. He was fined $5 in court costs.

Other traffic violators and their fines: A. C. Bigelow of Elm Road, speeding, $10; Benjamin Ables of 57 Wiggins Street, speeding, $15; Jerome Wodinsky of 236 Harrison Street, speeding, $15; Miss Elsie L. Coll of 40 Bayard Lane, careless driving, $25; Franklin B. Huntley of 68 Birch Avenue, careless driving, $20.

In Trenton, the Motor Vehicle Department announced the revocation for two months of the license of Michael Hanley, 11 Pelham Street. He had been convicted of speeding, careless and reckless driving in the last 18 months.

empl... as a janitor... and janitors are hard to get these days—I'm not going to improve the jail sentence in your case." Magistrate Louis R. Gerber informed William Ryan, 46, of 32 Stanley Avenue, in Township Court on Tuesday evening. Instead, the magistrate fined the janitor $225 and revoked his driver's license for two years.

Mr. Ryan was found guilty of drunk driving after Township police investigated an accident on River Road about 11 p.m. the night of April 28. The motorist had hit a telephone pole near the National Guard armory. He was discovered staggering next to his wrecked auto, and later given a telltale drunkometer examination.

Seminary Promotions. Dr. Charles T. Fritsch, Associate Professor of Old Testament at Princeton Theological Seminary, has been advanced to the rank of Professor of Old Testament. In the series of promotions and new appointments announced by President John A. Mackay.

A graduate of Mohr College and of Princeton Seminary, Dr. Fritsch holds a Ph.D. degree from Princeton University. His most recent book, "The Qumran Community, Its History and Scrolls," was published last year.

The seminary's trustees announced this week the creation of a new professional chair, that of Christianity and Society. Chosen to fill this new post was Dr. Samuel W. Blizard, recently Professor of Sociology at Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Edward A. Dowey Jr., Associate Professor of Church History at McCormick Theological Seminary, was elected Professor of the History of Christian Doctrine here. In addition, the Rev. Edward A. Golden, Teaching Chaplain in the University of Louisville Medical Center and new instructor at the Louisville Theological Seminary and the Southern Baptist Seminary, was named Visiting Lecturer in Pastoral Theology.

Textbooks Needed Badly. There is still time to donate old textbooks to Jacksonville University. Mrs. Fred Shoup, 6 Rollinswood, whose son, Rick, attends the college, has delayed the departure of a book-laden truck for Jacksonville until May 15 to give more Princetonians a chance to help.

Books may be deposited either at Frederick Harris at the Shopping Center or at Mrs. Shoup's home. Transportation may be arranged by calling 1-5194 or 1-1950-R. The books should be college level textbooks or reference volumes, and preferably published no earlier than 1943.

PARKING PROBLEMS: Loar Quicke, president of the Princeton Business Association, explains to Mrs. Peter Putnam the association's proposals for the extension of metered parking to 9 o'clock Friday evenings. The association's apportioning of the Friday night parking problems prompted Town Topics to query downtown merchants and shoppers as to their opinions on the problem. Expressing no opinion at all is young Gerry Putnam, age 6, who at the present time considers parking meters only as good leaning posts.

Question of the Week

Question: Do you think metered parking in downtown Princeton should be extended to 9 o'clock on Friday nights when shops are open?

Location: Downtown Princeton.

Loar Quicke, Ingleside Avenue, Pennington, manager of Woolworth's and president of the Princeton Business Association: On Friday nights the parkers even fill up the driveways around us here. Since all the downtown businesses have sustained some losses with the creation of the shopping center, we feel we need to be open on Friday nights for the extra business. In addition, this is a service to our customers who are unable to shop during the regular business hours. In my own case here at Woolworth's, my company has ordered me now to discontinue my Friday evening hours until the parking problem can be solved. With the situation the way it is, staying open just doesn't pay. Consequently, beginning Friday, May 10, we will have to close at the regular time. I think steps should definitely be taken to extend metered parking on Friday nights on Nassau and Witherspoon streets, in Palmer Square and in the Borough's off-street lot.

Mrs. Peter Putnam, Roper Road, housewife: "I'm all for helping the downtown merchants as much as possible. Parking is a distinct problem for the business men. It seems to me that meter money ought to be allocated to make the necessary sign replacements and make Friday night parking possible."

Murray Ahlsten, 134 Nassau Street, owner of Allen's Children's Shop: I think Friday night parking would definitely be a help. I have been open on Friday nights for the entire eight years. I have been located here, and I know the problem is an acute one. My customers even tell me that on Friday nights they have to ride round and round the block hunting a parking space. There is no question in my mind that extending the meter time would help the situation. Right now I am working on a private parking lot in the rear for my customers, but this could hardly be expected to solve the Friday night problem. What we need is metered parking.

Ralph Huitt, 110 Moore Street, manager of Huitt's Shoe Store: Yes, definitely. The only way to solve our problems is to provide parking facilities for Friday nights. Otherwise you don't do any business. Most other towns that I know about have metered parking on nights stores are open, so I don't see why we can't. During the seven years that I've been keeping Friday night hours, I've seen this problem grow worse. —Continued on Page 15

The Issues

One of the inevitable problems in a mushrooming community such as Princeton, the accommodation of an ever increasing number of motor vehicles, has received special attention in recent weeks. Both the Princeton Business Association and the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Parking and Traffic are tangling with the many aspects of the problem.

One of the bones of contention centers around the extension of metered parking on Friday nights to accommodate shoppers visiting some 50% of the downtown stores open until 9 p.m. Without the meters, businessmen say, parking spaces are almost non-existent. Loar Quicke, president of the Princeton Business Association, this week outlined the position of the business men in the following manner: "We merchants in downtown Princeton carry the tax load of the Borough by contributing some 30% of the tax money collected. Despite this, however, the Borough won't even favor us for one night of the week."

"Right now about half the association members are open on Friday nights, but many more have indicated they would stay open if parking facilities were available for their customers. "We of the business association are the ones primarily interested in this parking problem, and yet we don't even have a representative on the mayor's committee."

Topics Of The Town

Community Services Discussion. "The Many Faces of Discipline" will be the theme of the annual meeting of the Council of Community Services Wednesday. The meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. The workshop of the Community Players will present a play highlighting different approaches to the controversial problem of discipline. This is one of a series prepared by the National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

Miss Evangeline Miller, director of the Princeton Nursery School, Dr. Benjamin K. Silverman, Princeton pediatrician, and Mrs. Michel Boudart will form a panel to discuss the play. Mrs. Rachel L. Rustow, psychiatric social worker at the Somerset County Guidance Center, will be moderator. The evening's program is under the direction of Mrs. Francis X. Sutton, chairman of the Mental Health Committee of the Council.

Women Voters Plan Meetings. Public housing, mental health facilities and recreation will be subject to question next week as the League of Women Voters hold three unit meetings. On this occasion, the groups will consider separate problems which reflect the specialized surveys conducted by three directors of the League's booklet, "Know Your Town." The first session will be held at the home of Mrs. E. Baldwin Smith at 211 Trenton Avenue on Tuesday evening. At this time, Miss Hazel Benjamin will review the trial of 10 women, housing one of the issues described in the forthcoming booklet.

Mrs. Merrill Peterson will outline mental health facilities on Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Jackson Mortland, 125 Library Place. Mrs. Albert Tucker will report on recreation Thursday afternoon at 1:15 in the home of Mrs. Lyman Spitzer, 16 Prospect Avenue.

Friendship Club Honored. The Friendship Club of Princeton was given the New Jersey Afro-American Award by the newspaper's editor at a banquet held in the Wilkeson Presbyterian Church. The award is given each year to New Jersey persons or groups who have made significant contributions in their communities.

Mrs. Bertha H. Brandon received the award for the 39 members of the Friendship Club. Assisting with the banquet exercises and program were Mrs. Raymond Marrow, second vice-president of the club; Mrs. F. Douglas Epps, district chairman of the New Jersey Federated Colored Women's Clubs; Miss Jeanne Dix, program director of the Princeton Y-Teen; Mrs. J. W. Thompson, Mrs. Norman Whiting, Mrs. Roosevelt Kennedy and Mrs. Benjamin J. Anderson.

ATTRACTIONS FOR THE FAIR: Mrs. Bruce Armstrong and her son Eugene, a second former at Princeton Country Day School, will give a cello solo during the school fair to be held Saturday, May 18, on the school grounds. Featured in the talented cast for the Variety Show are the opera star, Mme. La Torso; the virtuoso at the key board of his grand piano, Professor Clef; and the strong man, Archibald Atlas. Also on the program will be a magician guaranteed to produce real live doves and rabbits from his magic hat. The fair opens at 12 o'clock with luncheon served on the lawn after the traditional father-son baseball game.

College Alumnae to Meet Here. The Trenton chapter of the Georgian College Alumnae will hold a luncheon and fashion show at the Princeton Inn on Saturday at the Princeton Inn. Proceeds will go to the organization's scholarship fund. The latest in fashions will be presented by the Mary Gill dress shop.

Mrs. Edward Clark, Jr., president of the chapter, is chairman for the fashion show. She will be assisted by Mrs. Louis Bell, ticket chairman; Mrs. Lambert T. Worman, Jr., fashion chairman; Mrs. Eugene Reucel and Mrs. James Harman, co-chairmen of the grand awards.

UJA Luncheon Held. The United Jewish Appeal Women's Division in Princeton held a luncheon Wednesday at a follow-up to last month's dinner meeting of the group. Some 50 women attended the fund-raising affair, which was held at the Nassau Tavern.

Mrs. Meyer Goldstein was chairman of the meeting, while Mrs. Edward Fireman was co-chairman. Mrs. Robert Sauber was telephone chairman.

Odd Fellows Trace History. A committee of the Nassau Lodge 106, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, has compiled a history of the organization in a booklet for distribution at its annual banquet on May 24.

Something should be done about it.

Isadore Mandell, Dunellen, owner of Tiger Auto Stores, Friday night parking is a real idea. We find it a real problem here. I think Wilkespoon Street is even more crowded at noon than Nassau Street. And our problems are getting worse all the time. There is no question but that it will help.

Miss Ann Hauser, 199 Nassau Street, Textile Research Institute employee: I'm one of those who doesn't have a car, so I don't think the parking meter problem has any effect upon me. I manage to get all my shopping done in the day time, too. This is the case with most of my friends, too, for I have heard very little from them about the problem.

Michael G. Kopliner, 120 Prospect Street, head university professor and a former Borough Councilman: No. Parking meters are just another form of tax, and I don't think they do anything to provide an answer to the parking problems. The solution is in off-street parking space, which should be bought with the parking meter revenue as originally stipulated. I have always been opposed to these meters, and I am still not convinced that they help the parking situation.

Headed by William E. Mitchell, the group consists of Arne Booth, Earl Henderson, John Stewart, Henry Wheeler, Wilbur Buchanan, David S. Hume and Melville Young. The late Duncan McNaught also aided the project. Tickets for the banquet may be secured from any member of this committee or at the weekly Thursday night meetings.

Another I.O.O.F. committee, headed by E. E. Satterthwaite, will soon select a Princeton High School junior to make a five-day pilgrimage to New York to the United Nations with other secondary school students from the United States, Canada and Mexico to help convene the Committee includes Mr. Wheeler, Mr. Hume and Mr. Henderson.

DAR Schedules Picnic. Members of the Princeton chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet at the home of Mrs. Howard L. Cox on Mill Road, Princeton Junction, next Thursday, May 16, for a picnic luncheon.

The group will convene at 11:30 a.m. for an annual business meeting conducted by the regent, Mrs. Walter P. Pullan, and reports will be submitted by committee chairmen. Mrs. Cox is in charge of the picnic, assisted by Mrs. Edward P. Travis and Mrs. Karl Baird.

Two-Day Rummage Sale Set. The Borough Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will conduct its annual spring rummage sale next Thursday and Friday, May 16 and 17, from 8:30 to 4:30 at the Nassau Street School gym.

Children's clothing, raincoats, gym suits, shoes, boots, books and toys are wanted. Articles should be brought to the gym by Wednesday during school hours.

Mrs. Jesse Markham is chairman for the sale, assisted by Mrs. Jane Drake, Mrs. P. J. McCrohan, Mrs. Walter Brooks and Mrs. Karl Pettit, Jr. Mrs. Markham may be reached at L-5874 for further information.

P.T.A. Plans Music Program. In its final meeting of the year, the Borough Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will present a spring concert on Tuesday at the Quarry Street School at 8 p.m.

Under the baton of Sylvan Friedman, the school's 50-piece orchestra will be heard, as will the combined chorus, led by Miss Jean Maxwell. A special dance ensemble is scheduled to demonstrate a series of folk and square dances with the chorus joining in on a Mexican number, "Cholopaneas."

Chapin School Holds Festival. A concert directed by Mrs. Paul A. Olsen, highlighted the Chapin School's annual spring festival on Tuesday.

Students presented a dance recital entitled "The Little Girl Who Learned to Dance," supervised by Miss Harriet Townsend, followed by a presentation of 200 pictures prepared in art classes. Mrs. John W. Brown was in charge of refreshments.

"First Things First"

To the Editor of Town Topics: As a "double quota" man in the recent YM-YWCA Building Fund Campaign, as a father of two girls and a boy born in Princeton, and as a resident of this community, I feel that I must express myself on several pending issues.

When I worked on the YM-YWCA Building Fund Drive, I told those I contacted that the community was in need of "y"-facilities and in particular of the swimming pool that would be built into the "y". It has now been better than two years since this campaign ended. Costs of building have risen and are continuing to rise. There has not, to this date, been a factual statement which satisfactorily explains why the "y" building has not only not been completed but has not as yet even been started.

Platitudes and sweet words will not build the building, nor will they engender confidence on the part of future donors. There appears to be a definite lack of administrative guidance in connection with getting this worthwhile project completed. It is interesting to note, in this connection, the initiation of the addition to our hospital and its probable completion before even the "y" building is commenced.

With the "y" Building Fund still short of its goal, a Princeton Shopping Center Campaign Office has now opened for a $335,000 "y" Camp Campaign Fund. The signs on this particular office are misleading and give one the impression that this fund and this campaign are primarily for the Princeton community. This is not the case. The facts are, however, for the YWCA Executive Board in the Princeton community was not even contacted prior to the time that these signs were in position and the office opened.

I further understand that while the "y" group was not contacted, the New Brunswick and Trenton YWCA's were contacted. As the father of two daughters, it appears to me that since a good bit of the money is supposedly going to be raised from the Princeton area, the courtesy should have been extended to the Princeton "y" group for a complete and cordial understanding prior to the time that any steps were taken to open a fund raising office in this area . . .

In discussing the new camp fund previously referred to, I was told that 3 weeks out of 3 weeks would be devoted to girls camping time. (Incidentally, these three weeks are usually at the very beginning or end of camp season, by far least desirable or useful.) It is my personal belief, again, that there is as much need for equal time for girls as for boys and the only reason girls are not as active in "y" and similar activities is lack of equal facilities.

I am not against camps, camping or similar worthwhile activities. I am a firm believer, however, of two old sayings. 1) "Charity begins at home." 2) "First things first." We, the Princeton community, would do better to screen our campaign fund giving to first providing local facilities for recreation and health.

Our Borough and Township Committees have quite effectively "smothered" in a maze of double talk, inaction and red tape even the decency of a yes or no answer as to whether a "community swimming pool" with or without taxes funds would be approved anywhere in Princeton. This in spite of the fact that thousands of our residents signed petition indicating their desires in this respect.

It therefore appears that some action is needed at home. In Princeton, before we go into some distant long range projects. Let's get our "y" building up, a community pool built for those who must remain in Princeton—one open to all, not restricted because of race, creed or color—let's finish our local hospital campaign in line with Mr. Gerald Lambert's donation offer. Further, in completing these goals, let's remember equal facilities for all including our girls.

Sunday Train Stops Asked

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am sending you a copy of a letter I wrote to the Pennsylvania Railroad. Perhaps other Princetonians would like to join me in seeing to it that we get decent train service on Sundays. It is simply ridiculous that no train stops here between 11:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

KARL ASCIAFFENBURG

22 Morgan Place.

The letter follows:

"Gentlemen:

"May I make a suggestion?

"Would it not be possible to have one of your trains between New York and Trenton on Sundays make a stop (either on schedule or on notice to conductor) at Princeton Junction at about 1 p.m. . . .

"At present no train stops here between 11:42 a.m. and 3:55 p.m., so that people who want to come to Princeton later in the morning must be picked up in New Brunswick by car. There is no great need for a shuttle service at this time.

It would save much trouble and annoyance if visitors could be picked up in Princeton Junction. The very slight expense a stop would mean to the Penna. Railroad would be amply covered by the difference in price of tickets to Princeton instead of to New Brunswick.

I hope that you will give favorable consideration to this suggestion."

Play Space Needed

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I wonder whether the two Princeton Planning Boards have realized that this town is rapidly becoming one of small suburban lots with almost no provisions being made for playgrounds for our numerous children.

In a town growing as we are, I think it is imperative that areas are set aside as parks, baseball lots and just plain woods for a child to roam in—a group of lively boys will find very little encouragement to play in the small, heavily-planted back-yards most of us have.

Even the fields owned by the University or rented by Princeton Country Day School are not going to be able to handle the influx that we will have one of these days. Every town of any size prides itself on the number of its parks, both for their usefulness and for their beauty and it will be a sad commentary on the town if the families who are leaving big cities like New York to give their children more room to grow in, will find that they had much better have stayed where they were. At least there they had the rather dreary choice of a Central Park.

SPORTS In Princeton

TITLES AT STAKE

Tigers Aim for Two. Games at New Haven this weekend will go far to determine Princeton's chances of winning two league championships this spring—neither of which the Tigers held a year ago. If John Conroy's tennis team can beat Yale Friday afternoon, it will virtually clinch the Eastern Association title, while victory Saturday for Ferris Thomsen's lacrosse team will make it an odds-on favorite to replace the Elis as Ivy champions in that sport.

Not a single athletic event is set for Princeton this weekend, a schedule quick rarely duplicated. The crew will compete for the Carnegie Cup on Ithaca's sprawling Lake Cayuga; the unbeaten lightweighters will put the Goldwath Cup on the line against Harvard and Yale at Cambridge; the ball team meets Dartmouth and Yale away on successive afternoons; and the golfers will enter the Eastern Intercollegiate at Annapolis.

Results and Roundup. A fortnight ago, a strong team representing little Presbyterian College in South Carolina topped the Tigers, 6-3. Harvard's defending Eastern champion, however, handed the southerners, 8-1.

Tennis being a good deal of a form sport, Princeton staged a resounding upset Saturday when it blanked Harvard, 9-0, for the Crimson's first loss in nine starts. In fact, the Tigers were so good that they lost only three sets in the first nine matches and so deep that they won 15 to 2 on a basis of the 15 individual matches that Harvard, Yale and Princeton play when they meet each other.

It is the 9-0 score that goes into the association standings, and sends the Tigers against Yale as a strong favorite to top the Blue. Dartmouth is on tap the next day, with Penn and Cornell still to be met, but if the Tigers beat the Elis, they'll be home free.

Ferris Thomsen's lacrosse team wallowed Harvard, 18 to 2, rolling up a 13-2 halftime lead Saturday on University Field. It was strictly no contest, numerous defensive lapses on the part of the visitors helping Princeton score with staccato-like frequency.

Meanwhile, a Dartmouth team that the Tigers won for the second time last year, and submerged, 11 to 1, was upsetting defending champion Yale, 11-10, at Hanover. The Elis won the Ivy title in its first formal year of competition last spring, but indications are it will come the Tigers' way Saturday.

Crews Win Again. Both Princeton rowers won for the second time Saturday in a row, the heavyweight again coming from behind in the last quarter mile. Repetition of the tremendous spurt they staged against Penn caught Harvard on the windswept Charles River, keeping the Compton Cup in Dillon Gymnasium. M.I.T., Dartmouth and Boston University trailed.

The 150-lb. crew had to catch Navy in the last few yards as it took the Wood Hammond Cup for the fifth year in a row and won over its 23rd and 24th consecutive opponents. Penn was third.

The lightweighters figure to take the measure of Harvard and Yale at Cambridge Saturday, but the varsity faces extremely tough opposition in national champion Cornell and Olympic champion Yale in the Carnegie Cup race at Ithaca. Off their respective races against Penn, the Tigers and the Elis are about on a par, but Cornell last week beat by nearly three lengths the same Navy shell that edged the Tigers on April 20 by a few inches.

One of college rowing's most picturesque events is set for Lake Carnegie on Saturday, May 18. The Eastern Association championships for freshman, jayvee and varsity crews will be staged, with heats in the mornings and finals in the afternoon.

Ball Team Loses Another. A 1-0 victory for Harvard on Saturday, achieved on the strength of a second-inning home run, sent the Princeton baseball team down to its fourth straight Eastern League defeat. The Tigers sealed their doom with some unimaginative base-running that killed off a promising eighth inning rally.

Herm Belz pitched well in defeat, giving up seven hits and three walks but getting stronger as he went along. The weak-hitting attack is totally unable to produce for him; for example, this spring the big sophomore has pitched a total of 34 scoreless innings against Lafayette, Colgate and Harvard and hasn't a single victory to show for it.

Earlier last week, Ed Seaman beat Rutgers, 5-1, to snap the team's five-game losing streak. Princeton jumped on the Scarlet for four runs in the first and Seaman scattered four hits over nine innings to give the Tigers an even

Alumnus Sees Red

The 37-year-old scoreboard at University Field has been replaced with a streamlined model which uses red lights to flash the count on strikes, balls and outs. Trade secret: the job was accomplished through the use of seven automobile tail lights.

As might be expected in a town that houses some 600 loyal alumni, one of them took the use of red as an insult to his alma mater, suggested hotly that the only appropriate colors are orange and black.

The Department of Athletics was uncertain this week just how far a black light could be seen.

break in the series. They lost last month at New Brunswick, 11-8.

ERRORS COSTLY

PHS Loses Fourth Straight. Coach Harry Zoll tried a noble experiment with his Little Tiger baseball varsity last weekend, in an effort to record victory No. 1 (in four tries), but the new move—shifting positions—fell prey to an old Princeton High nemesis—errors. As a result of said miscreants, PHS lost a 3-2 "squeaker" to Long Branch High, a club that seemed beaten 2-0 as late as the fifth inning.

At that time, Ivan Fiddick, Princeton's best hurler this season, was breezing along with an advantage that was fashioned by single runs in the first and second frames. Then, the Blue and White defense let down completely, allowing the Branchers three unearned tallies—and thus an unearned triumph—on a lone safety.

According to his previously announced plan, Zoll started Allen Ammerman at first base, Joe Chibbaro behind the plate and Bill Smith at shortstop—transfers expected to aid the Little Tigers in the hitting department. But the losers' all-out-spread-out hits (only four total) were contributed by Ammerman, Riddick, George Wilson and Dick Berger, so the experiment actually failed to pay off where it was expected to.

Zoll went with Riddick instead of freshman Jack Hawkins at the last minute, and the senior pitcher proved a fine choice. He limited the successful shore nine to a pair of hits in going the route, the top PHIS performance to date. He deserved to chalk up Princeton's initial win, but errors in that frightful fifth did him in.

Back at home this Friday, at 3:30 p. m., Zoll's club will meet the Branchers in a return match, with Riddick likely to get another crack at them. On Monday and Wednesday, also at 3:30, the Little Tigers will play two more home games, intracounty affairs with Hamilton and Ewing High Schools. (This Wednesday's contest with Lawrenceville at the prep school was scheduled too late for inclusion of the final score in this week's Town Topics).

ON AGAIN, OFF AGAIN

Hun Splitte Contests. They may not be the world-beaters their predecessors were, these Johnny Hun baseball players Zig Emery has built into a young team this spring, but they certainly turn in interesting performances for the benefit of their supporters. After splitting their first three games right down the middle (1-1-1), they have spent the last fortnight winning two and losing as many in a fairly hectic manner.

First, the Red and Black clubbed Germantown Friends, 16-8, with Chuck Bennett pitching the victory and requiring only belated aid from reliever Steve Fales. In that encounter, Emery's youngsters demonstrated customary Hun power as John Emery (three for four) stroked a homer and drove in five runs and Marshall Emery now supering a 250 season's average, hit three for five.

Against Stevens Academy three days later, Fales dropped a close 4-2 decision to Stevens Academy (and was subsequently dropped by his own club for smoking). Last week, back on the familiar home field, the Red and Black was stunned by Tower Hill, 13-3, before bouncing back to over-throw Delbarton, 21-6, by way of a 17-hit attack (including Bennett's three for four, Dick Berger's five and George George's four for four). Bennett figured in both mound decisions.

As the Johnny Huns went against Solebury this week (too late for coverage here) and plan-

Of Muscles And Measles

All things considered, Coach Win Niles came home from the 27th annual Newark Schools Invitation track and field championships last week end with a feeling that his boys had done more than might be expected. He wound up entering only three Princeton High athletes in the meet's Combined Division and, figuring that 21 different schools scored in divisional events, he was delighted to be for seventh place.

Captain Nick Kovalichuk earned all of Princeton's points (10) by capturing one of the afternoon's few doubles. He broke no records, but contributed highly satisfactory work in his victory events, the javelin and discus. Roddy Pannell, "who was capable of winning" in the event in which he was entered," according to his coach, was sidelined by a case of measles. Dick Knowles, also rated a good chance to add a few PHIS points, was sidelined by an important set of exams.

So Niles went into the grueling Mercer County championship to Trenton this Wednesday with some of his boys in good shape, but probably not enough to defeat powerful Trenton High. He hoped for second place. On Saturday, the Little Tigers will travel to the Long Branch Relays, another tough meet, and, next Wednesday, they will be in Soberville for a dual meet which promises to be comparatively easy pickings.

ned to meet Bryn Athyn at home this Friday and Fiddle at home next Wednesday. Emery looked for his team record to climb above Jenny's individual average. Meanwhile, with seven regulars over the 300 mark, he was pleased with his team batting average.

SOUND THE ALARM!

Firemen Start Play. Princeton Engine Company No. 1 and Belle Mead, traditional powers in the Firemen's Baseball League, are expected to cause a lot of the fireworks during the 1957 season, which got underway this week (too late for inclusion of first-round results in the current issue of Town Topics). At least, the loop will play games each Wednesday evening for the next two months-plus.

Last year, with 10 clubs competing, the participants were divided into a pair of five-team divisions. This campaign, with the total cut by two, all clubs will remain in a single league, each member meeting every other nine twice during the summer, at home-and-home basis. Playoffs will follow the regular 14-game schedule.

Teams in the loop for 1957: No. 1, Belle Mead, Hook & Ladder, Princeton Junction, Lawrenceville, Kingston, Blawenburg and Hopewell.

Golf Contest Set

The Hole-in-One Golf Challenge, planned to benefit the Princeton Hospital as a pre-Fete event, will be staged this Saturday and Sunday from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on a specially-built green at the end of Springdale Road. Contestants will pay $1 per shot to compete for more than 50 prizes. Among those planning to participate are Governor Meyer and Township Mayor Paul J. Mason, who will be on hand Sunday at 12:30. Proceeds will go to the hospital's building and equipment fund. (For the list of prize donors, see page 18.)

Red Sox, Cardinals Lead. The first week of play in the Midget Baseball League saw the Kiwanis Red Sox on top in the American League and the Cardinals, sponsored by the Township Police, heading the National League standings. They were the only two of 12 teams to win twice. The Red Sox staged an eight-run rally to top the Yankees, 3-2, and then set back the Orioles, 10-8. The Cards handed the Braves a 3-0 setback and topped the Giants, 13-2. Other shutouts were registered by the Pirates (9-0 over the Braves) and the Redlegs (6-0 over the Dodgers).

The May 6 standings, with sponsors in parentheses:

American League

Pirates (Plainsboro)	1 0 1
Giants (Chevrolet)	1 1 0
Redlegs (Fr. Appl.)	1 0 1
Braves (Music Shop)	0 2 0
Dodgers (Rotary)	0 2 0

PCD WINS TWO MORE

Now Has Four in a Row. A close 8-7 decision over Valley Road and an 8-5 triumph over Witherspoon raised Princeton Country Day School's baseball record to 4-0 this week. Pony Fraker was the winning pitcher on both occasions.

Valley Road had a 3-0 lead after the top of the third, but PCD deadlocked the count in its half of that inning. The Blue and White then took a 6-3 advantage, only to have the visitors go ahead, 7-6, in the top of the last inning. A two-run rally, with Tim Carey scoring the winning run after two men had been retired, gave Country Day the victory.

Tommy Petrone hit a double and a home run and went the distance on the mound for Witherspoon, but Country Day won the game. S.S. Fraker struck out eight and yielded only four hits.

Each team scored three times in the first inning, but PCD shoved over two more in the second and three in the fourth to seal the verdict. Wesley McCaughey, on it in his first year as coach of the Broadmead nine, replacing Herb McAneny after the latter had directed Country Day ball teams for more than 20 years.

BOWLING NOTES

An unprecedented event took place at Princeton Recreation Center this past week as three of the Major League's half-dozen members—Frazee's Market, Decker's Dairy and the Key Shop—concluded the second half of the 1966-67 season in a three-way tie for first place... each of the top three clubs wound up with 66 points, followed distantly by Tiger Garage (48), Blatt's (40) and West Windsor (2)... after drawing for positions, the Key Shop defeated Decker's in a roll-off, grabbing two straight games, and now must meet Frazee's in a roll-off for second-half laurels... if Frazee's wins this match, it'll be all over in the Major until fall because Frazee's also won the first half race... however, if the Key Shop comes up with a victory, the two teams then must compete in a more strenuous test for the league championship... individually, the final-week standouts were Hal Frazee (224-207-173 for a 606 series), George Laird (215) and Joe Ostrowski (204).

In the Princeton "B" League, Jefferson Plumbing (62 wins) moved in on the National Guard (60) by copying two of three games from the No. 1 club, thus keeping that loop's race tight with several weeks remaining... no such situation in the Princeton "A" League, which Tiger Garage (114) has clinched—this being the —Continued on Page 20

Cadillac

Third Generation at the Wheel!

"Like father, like son", the poets say.

And never was it truer than in the case of a great many fine Cadillac families.

For there are, in our land today, a number of families that currently boast as many as three generations at the wheel.

We mention this simply to underscore a great and dramatic truth about Cadillac—that, of course, is its unchanging goodness and quality.

For fifty-five years, the Cadillac name has signified one and the same thing to motorists everywhere—a motor car created at the highest level that automotive science would permit.

Over that time, Cadillac has attracted to the ranks of its owners the finest list of names to be found anywhere on the American motoring scene.

And, those who have followed the path to Cadillac in 1957 are enjoying the most abundant blessings of this ceaseless crusade for quality.

The new "car of cars", with coachcraft by Fleetwood, is beautiful and luxurious to an unprecedented degree. And its performance and handling ease are a revelation!

Certainly, the Cadillac car has now become an even wiser investment for an even wider circle of America's motorists.

If you have yet to acquaint yourself with these brilliant Cadillac virtues for 1957, your dealer will be delighted to tell you how easily you can make Cadillac a fine family custom of your own!

ARCHERY SHOW

Set for Saturday, Princetonians interested in the ancient sport of archery have been invited by Buckland Valley Archers, Inc., to attend a free archery show at the Gen. Washington Park, Upper River Road, Bucks County, Pa. The elaborate production will continue from 1 to 7 p.m. this Saturday.

According to the sponsoring organization's program, there will be shooting demonstrations every hour and, in the pavilion area, displays dealing with arrow and bow string-making, equipment safety procedures, targets and with the kit — you apply some Rubenstein cosmetics, like the liquid rouge that contains "Flavone—nature's own ingredient for making roses rosy," and the silk-screen face powder that's made with "pure atomized silk."

For Mother's Day, "Conceal" might not be the most useful gift. But any mother would respond to the charming little French kiosk that holds a bottle of Houbigant's "Quelques Fleurs" toilet water and a tiny nosegay of flowers. (Houbigant has a booklet of professional flower arrangements named after its products, and you may have one, in color, with each purchase of the little kiosk.)

Coty's has a new curl-set. It's perfumed (any of the three favorite Coty fragrances) and it's designed to eliminate the need for a home permanent because it keeps a curl from shampoo to shampoo for 32.

Another Mother's Day gift might be a "Muguet des Bois" set — solid cologne and liquid, sachet and toilet water, and so on, in lily-of-the-valley baskets. If momma is active, buy her Lanvin's "Traveler," which comes in a glass bottle with protective metallic covering outside. "Arpege" and "My Sin" are the fragrances to choose from.

Sit and Brewse. Not even the Parisian bookstalls offer you a place to sit while you decide what to buy. Witherspoon Art and Book, in its nook off Witherspoon Street behind The Auto, has welcomed the spring with a circular redwood table, sheltered by a big umbrella and surrounded by chairs.

If you see a book inside the shop and decide you want to look inside the book, you may sit under the umbrella and pore over your find as long as you wish. You may even bring a luncheon sandwich and improvise your own sidewalk cafe.

The Witherspoon Art and Book Shop has on display at the moment an oil painting by the well-known Japanese artist, G. Mokita who is usually known for his water-colors. Its a country scene, painted in a thoroughly Western style. An Air-Force family bought it in Japan and decided to sell it because they travel so much. The picture is 20 by 25 inches, set in a handsome hand carved wooden frame.

Yellow water-color paint is the medium used in some amusing sketches done on black paper and offered to any takers for $5. Jon Shilling is the artist. One is an abstraction of triangular valleys and lines, another has stick figures playing jazz.

What's on the shelves? A lively collection of children's books, including "The Picture Story of the Middle East" by Susan Nevill from which momma and poppa may well learn a great deal; "You and the United Nations," for 8-12-year-olds who have just begun to put out feelers to the outside world.

"Parures Africaines," a magnificent pictorial study of African tribes will appeal to an anthropologist who can read French. "Svenska-Amerikanska Kokbok" will appeal to nestball gourmets who can read Swedish.

SECOND STRAIGHT SHUTOUT

Tigers' Lee, B.O. A five-hit pitching job by Manhattan's Bob Bryson served to blank the Princeton baseball team Tuesday on University Field. The 8-0 defeat ran the team's runless streak to 18 innings.

Sophomore Joe Burns walked the first four men to face him, and a fielder's choice and line single to center chased in three more before Leigh Ford replaced him. That was all the visitors, rolling along on a line 12-1 record needed, but they added clusters of two in the fifth off Ford and in the eighth off junior Dave Riden. Princeton stranded eight runners in the first three innings as its inability to deliver clutch hits continued. With two men on third and three on second in these rounds, no Tiger batter was able to get the ball out of the infield.

SOFTBALL OPENERS

Pitching Duels Featured. Favored Nassau Social Club, enthused by the "comeback" hurling at Wack McCreey, who suffered a serious shoulder injury last summer, scored a 2-1 victory over ASCOP on Tuesday evening as all eight teams in the Princeton Community Softball League swung into action for their first "T" games. Of the four contests played, three were decided by 2-1 verdicts, indicating the pitcher's dominance at the campaign's outset.

McCreey allowed six hits over the seven-inning course, but they were well-scattered and ASCOP managed only a single run in the bottom of the third. Putting the three safeties to good use, NSC picked up single tallies in the second and fourth frames, just enough for victory. No. 1 in defense of its league title.

In the first night's most exciting contest, Drake's Plumbing & Heating overcame a 1-0 deficit by rallying for lone runs in the sixth and seventh innings. Don Opatyke drove in Dick Adams, who had singled, to dead-end, and next time around, Ted Drake drove in Don Long, who had walked, for the winning margin. Bill Bergen notched his initial win for Drake's with a fine two-hit performance.

Senaldi's Plumbing & Heating, a loop newcomer this year, got off winging with a 2-1 over the Nassau Club, also a newcomer, thanks to a two-run homer in the top of the fifth. The evening's fourth meeting — anything but a duel between pitchers — saw the Sportsmen's Club stagger Frazee's Market by a 20-3 count. A baseless home run by Frank Pinelli featured the attack as the visitors picked up seven runs in the first, sixth in the third, two in the fourth,
four in the fifth and one in the sixth.

ROUND TRIP TO NEW YORK
100 miles with a Soccer Ball. A pair of exhausted Princeton freshmen arrived at Nassau Hall Sunday afternoon, after booting a soccer ball to New York and back along the weekend-congested highways.

They completed the 100-mile trek in 49 hours following a fund drive in which friends made nearly 700 one-dollar pledges to be donated to an Episcopal Mission in Galveston, Texas. The boys are Victor Regan of Hempstead, L.I., and Robert Merriam of Belmont.
Both are 19 years old.

The "dribblethon" began early Friday afternoon in front of Nassau Hall, after 100 well-wishers sent them off. Wearing Bermuda shorts, gym shirts and sneakers, the boys kicked the ball rolled under Washington Road to the Penn Neck traffic circle whereupon they proceeded along U.S. 1.

En route to New York, the Bilmore Hotel, the freshmen ran into a mishap when their ball rolled under the wheels of a trailer truck, forcing them to kick it 14 miles in a flattened condition.
They arrived at their destination at 10 a.m. Saturday after tapping their lifeless ball though the main arteries of New York. After a stop at the Baltimore Hotel, the viewers and much-needed sleep, the dribblers embarked on the return trip with a new ball.

A rest stop for young Regan proved costly when he found himself unable to put his swollen feet back in his basketball shoes. As a result, he limped back to Princeton with great towels wrapped around his blistered extremities and was forced to enter McCosh Infirmary for a few days' rest.

The boys have permanently retired from the sport. And they strongly doubt that anyone will try to improve on their 49-hour record.

Wellesley Bazaar Saturday. Offering a wide variety of spectator sports clothing, the Wellesley Bazaar will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday at Miss Pine's School, closing at 5.

In addition to the sale, will include an assortment of perennial plants including chrysanthemums and small shrubs. Other featured items are balloons, cotton candy, home baked goods and gifts. Pony and fire engine rides will be available for children.

Street, Hopewell; Mr. and Mrs. F. Lloyd Staats, River Road, Belle Mead; Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. 28 Peterson Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Light, Cherry Valley Road, in Mercer Hospital, Trenton, a daughter was born to Dr. and Mrs. Harry W. Hazard, 36 Armour Road.

A non-profit corporation, the Central New Jersey YMCA Camps, has been formed with Mr. Mason as president to handle the proposed camp. The group has already contracted to buy the 307-acre McDuffia farm property in Hardwick Township, Warren County.

Both Mr. Mason and General Johnson have been active in community projects such as one they are currently undertaking. Mr. Mason is currently president of the Trenton YMCA.

St. Paul's P.T.A. Will Meet. The St. Paul's Parent-Teacher Association will elect officers for the coming year at its final meeting on Tuesday at 8 p.m. During the previous hour, parents and teachers may confer.

Following the business session, Mrs. Anthony Zucarello will be featured in the May Crowning, attended by P.T.A. officers and committee chairmen. Hostesses for the evening are the following first-grade mothers: Mrs. Edward Murphy, Mrs. William Barclay, Mrs. Robert Schwenker, Jr., Mrs. Dalton Pritchard, Mrs. James McGuire, Mrs. Robert McCarthy and Mrs. Thomas Moran.

Cub Scout Leaders Wanted. Princeton Cub Scout Pack 88 is appealing for volunteers to operate its program. The organization, which comprises seven dens and 60 Cubs, needs den mothers and new members of the pack committee.

According to Arthur L. Benson, retiring chairman of the pack committee, membership is expected to expand and new leaders must be on hand to take care of the influx. Cub parents who can lend a hand are asked to call him at 1-0269-M.

The pack will end its 1956-57 activities with an outdoor meeting on Tuesday and a field day picnic on June 1, according to Cubmaster Richard C. Griggs. The Cub program will begin again next fall.

At a recent meeting, Cubmaster Griggs issued awards to the following Cubs: Fred Hutson of 613 Snowden Lane and Robert Way of 234 Moore Street, wolf badge; Peter Heiberger of 100 Longview Drive, Stephen Ne-

Dr. Clarence A. Slucom, 53, of 25 West Avenue, died May 3 in New York City. He was found dead in the courtyard of a nine-story building at 561 11th Street.

According to police, he had fallen or jumped from the building's roof. Dr. Slucom had lived at that address until he moved to Princeton two years ago.

A doctor of philosophy, Dr. Slucom was a partner in an advertising research firm at 41 Fifth Avenue, New York. He is survived by his sister, Miss Helen Slucom, of Battle Creek, Michigan.

Fred M. Wyckoff, 54, of the Marshall Corner-Woodville Road, Hopewell, died May 3 at his home. Mr. Wyckoff, who operated a service station, was found lying face down in a pool of water in the rear of his service station-home. The body was found by the State Police after Mr. Wyckoff had been reported missing for two days.

Mr. Wyckoff had been under the care of a physician for a heart condition. He moved to Woodville from Reed Road in Hopewell less than a week before his death. He is survived by two sons, David Blackwell of Hopewell, and Mrs. Elwyn Blackwell of Skillman, and an uncle, Frederick T. Servis, of Trenton.

The service was held at a funeral home in Hopewell with Elder Harold Bennett of the Old School Baptist Church officiating. Interment was in Highland Cemetery.

Y Camp Fund Planned. General Robert W. Johnson, chairman of the board of Johnson and Johnson, and Ralph S. Mason, mayor of Princeton township, have named co-chairmen of the Central New Jersey YMCA Camp Fund. The fund will this year seek to raise $33,000 to provide a new camp to replace the old Y camp destroyed by floods in 1955.

News Of The CHURCHES

Ten Years for Lutherans. In 1947, 48 men and women of the Princeton community gathered together for Easter Sunday for the first service of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah. Commemorating that event, the congregation will hold special Anniversary Vespers Services this Sunday at 4 p.m. and their first pastor, the Rev. Milton J. Nass, will be present as guest speaker.

In the ten years since the congregation held its first services in the Chapel of Westminster Choir College, its membership has grown to more than 400. This figure does not include Lutheran students at Princeton for the Rev. Dr. Richard Lucke, Messiah's pastor, acts as chaplain. Dr. Lucke accepted the call to Messiah Lutheran in 1955.

Missionary Will Speak. A Presbyterian missionary who has spent many years in Korea will address the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church of the Day. Luncheon meeting, next Monday at 12:24. He is the Rev. E. Otto deCamp, director of the missionary radio station, H.K.Y., an interdenominational station.

The Rev. Mr. deCamp, a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, was born in Seoul, Korea and returned there in 1937 after completing his studies. He served as U.S. Army chaplain from 1943 to 1946, and has served as missionary in Korea since that time.

The Association will begin its Monday meeting at 11:30 a.m. with a talk by Mrs. Paul L. Warnshuis on "Our Spanish Heritage of the Southwest." The luncheon and talk by the Rev. Mr. deCamp will follow.

Bulletin Notes. A "Twin Bake Sale" will be held this Saturday by the Junior and Senior High Westminster Fellowships of Kingston Presbyterian church. One sale will be at the Kingston post office and will start at 8:30 a.m. The twin will be held at the Princeton Shopping Center in the office of "Perma-seal" and will start at 9:30 a.m. Proceeds will be used to send young people to summer camps and church conferences.

Witherspoon Presbyterians will also hold a bake sale at Perma-seal. It is sponsored by the Sunday School for the purpose of buying new equipment and it will be held next Friday, May 17, from 5 p.m. - 9 p.m.

Unitarians have been examining a model of their new church on display in the study of the Unitarian minister, the Rev. Straughan L. Gettier. The model, made in the offices of the architects, will be on display for the last time this Friday from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Delegates from Trinity church attended the annual convention of the Diocese of New Jersey held this week in Trenton. The delegates were Charles T. Conover, Jr., Everett S. Wallis, and Lewis D. Houck. Alternates, who also attended the meetings, were Clayton Morris Hall, Thomas M. Rowland and Sydney G. Stevens.
